"My interest in Art and Psychology continues to influence my work. With Surrealism being the grand marriage of the two, I was naturally drawn to every aspect behind the movement. Themes I explore involve the human psyche- who we are and how we interact with each other, and the world we live in- our relationship with other animals and nature, our role in the life cycle and the connections between all life forms, as well as our influence and impact on all of nature. I work in series, each painting has its own message, with the overall concept conveying respect for all of nature and humanity."
